SITE FOR A PESTHOUSE

THE CITY HAS LATELY MADE NO PROGRESS IN THE MATTER.

Once to Secure a Favorable Site.

Winter is approaching and the development of smallpox cases is anticipated, yet the city has made practically no progress in procuring a site for a pesthouse. Unand building the structure devolves on the Board of Public Works. Last spring an appropriation of $12,000 was made to accomplish this purpose, but the ordinance was amended so as to make it impossible for the appropriation to become available unless the site chosen is at least threequarters of a mile from the city. Since then Mayor Bookwalter and the Board of Werks have visited numerous sites that answered the requirements. Only a few were available. Among those that were available was one which seemed satisfactory in all respects, but the board ran unexpectedly against a defective title, which, of course, precluded purchase. Thus the months when the construction was expected to be progressing have passed and disease without preparation for it.

City Sanitarian Buehler said yesterday that there was an earnest desire to procure some suitable place, but that the problem crew less favorable of solution every day. He said there had been no attempt to delay action because of political effect, but the delay was because of the difficulty of securing available land. It is not as easy to procure the area needed for a pesthouse as it would be if a church was to be built. Owners of land have become suspicious and refuse to sell small portions, and the be sought finds few small tracts. A determined effort will be made at once to procure a proper site under the condi tions of the appropriation at once and push work as rapidly as possible

NEW CONCERNS.

Articles of Incorporation Filed with the Secretary of State.

The Manufacturers' Mining and Fuel Company incorporated yesterday with $250,-000 capital. The principal office will be lo cated at Anderson with branch offices in several other cities in the gas belt. The company will mine and sell coal and establish oil and gas wells. The directors are George Lilly, William H. Stanton, James J. Netterville, Samuel J. Mack, Benjamin O. Haugh, Thomas N. Stillwell, Arthur W. Tyler, Walter Jones and John W. Lovett. The Garrett Home and Real Estate Company incorporated with $2,000 capital. Directors: Edward M. McKennan, Charles Rollins, John V. Reyher and George M.

Dr. Charles W. Littlefield, Lena L. Little field and George H. Marlowe are directors of the Magneto-Bio-Chemic Company, of Alexandria, incorporated with $2,000 capital. The Journeymen Painters, Paperhangers and Decorators of the United States, with headquarters at Muncie, filed articles of incorporation yesterday. The officers are: President, Samuel Crawford; first vice presdent. John Lowe; second vice president. William Throp; third vice president, John P. Wall; secretary M. L. Ridge; treasurer, C. Harrington.

The Cigar Dealers' Association of America, an anti-trust organization of independent cigar dealers, with headquarters in Illiois, filed articles in Indiana yesterday.

SYSTEM IN DEMAND.

Census Bureau Applies to the State Board of Health.

The United States Census Office has requested from the State Board of Health transcripts of records of deaths registered in Indiana during the year 1901 and forwarded blanks especially prepared for the the Census Office on account of the accuracy and their practial value in making up statistics of the United States. There are only five States of which the request was nade. They are Connecticut, Massachusetts, Rhode Island, Michigan and Indiana.

The accuracy of Indiana's mortality system has attracted the attention of foreign governments and life insurance companies. The State Board of Health has daily ap- affoat that David E. Sherrick will applications for transcripts for the causes and laces of deaths to settle pensions, ineritance of property and insurance claims. The most practical use of such statistics to discover where disease exists so that national sanitary measures may be taken to prevent sickness.

SUITS COMMENT ON VICTORY

REPUBLICAN LEADERS ENGAGE IN ANALYZING RESULT.

Bryan Democrats Given Some of the Credit for the Plurality of Thirty-Five Thousand.

IN SECOND DISTRICT

CHANEY GAVE MIERS THE CLOSEST SHAVE OF HIS CAREER.

State Committee Officials Proud of the Work of the Press Bureau-Officers Go Home.

James P. Goodrich, chairman of the Republican State committee, having fought a good fight, returned to his home at Winchester yesterday to resume his regular vocation, that of an attorney at law. Chairman O'Brien, of the Democratic committee, did not return to his office here after having voted at Lawrenceburg Tuesday, and, in fact, has not appeared here since the election. The Democratic headquarters will likely be closed soon, and Secretary Reilly will resume his duties with the street-railway company. The Republ'can committee rooms will probably be kept open, and for a time Secretary Whittaker will remain in charge.

At committee headquarters yesterday it was estimated that the Republican victory in Indiana will amount to something like 35,000. Now that the excitement of the first realization of victory has abated the leaders in the State have begun to speculate on some of the things that assisted in bringing about this overwhelming triumph. Secretary Whittaker thinks the Bryan Democrats had a good deal to do with it. He estimates that this wing of the Democracy knifed the Democratic ticket ferociously. "I wouldn't be surprised," said he yesterday, "if at least ten thousand Bryan Democrats in Indiana either stayed at home or voted the Republican ticket."

One of the great surprises to Republicans | man missing. Laporte stopped and called | cratic candidates; and Democrats, and a fact that is being commented on all over the State, is the manner in which Representative Miers's majoritly was reduced in the Second district. While the Republican managers expected John C. Chaney to make a gallant fight, and there was strong hope of electing him, yet those who are familiar with the situation in these heavily Democratic districts know that it has heretofore been an almost hopeless task for a Republican to run for Congress in one of these districts. Mr. Chaney gave Miers the fight of his mors on the streets here to the effect that Miers was defeated. Late yesterday evening, however, a telephone message was received at committee headquarters stating that Chaney would lose the district by about 200. It was the opinion yesterday among leading Republicans in different parts of the State that had Lawrence county given the majority that was expected of it Chaney would have been elected.

RUMORS OF FRAUD. There are rumors of fraud in Lawrence, and it was the opinion here last night that Chaney will probably contest Miers's election, and that in the event he does this he will secure Miers's seat in the national der the charter the duty of selecting a site | House. To Republican leaders the result in the Second district is another indication of the activity of Bryan Democrats against the Democratic ticket. This element of the Democracy is very large and healthy in the Second district, and from time to time in the last few months there have been rumors to the effect that the Bryanites were not satisfied with Miers. It is known that they vention smarting with the sting of defeat and with hot resentment in their hearts a direct slap in the face by ignoring their

Another surprise, and a glad one to the district, represented by James A. Hemenway. It was stated vesterday that Mr Hemenway would probably have a plural ity of 3,000. All over Indiana Republicans | the Republican senators. are rejoicing over the triumph in the First Perhaps no one is more pleased Hemenway's success than Senator Charles W. Fairbanks, who is his close personal friend. Last week toward the close of Senator Fairbanks's campaign he made some speeches in Mr. Hemenway's district One of these addresses was made in Ev ansville, the home city of Mr. Hemenway's opponent. To one audience of 3,000 peopl Senator Fairbanks told of Mr. Hemenway's worth in Congress and promised that if he was sent back to Congress he would in all probability be placed at the head of one of the most important committees in the the efforts of Senator Fairbanks in the First district undoubtedly had much to de with the success of Mr. Hemenway. Aside from this Hemenway is a very popular man in the district and Democrats and Republicans have watched his career in Congress. They all feel proud of him and when, after Speaker Henderson's resignation, it was announced that Mr. Cannon might give up the chairmanship of the appropriations committee to Mr. Hemenway, there was a disposition in the district to send Mr. Hemenway back. How loyal the district was to its representative is seen by the result. One thing that makes the Republicans of the State appreciate all the more Mr. Hemenway's victory is the fact that two years ago he carried the district by little more than two hundred.

A POPULAR MAN.

Among the Republicans of the State there is no more popular man than Charles B Landis, the present representative in Congress from the Ninth district. The effective work accomplished in his district is a matter of comment among the leaders. Mr. Landis carried every county in the dis trict except Tipton, which is a Democratic stronghold. So effective was the work and the organization in the Ninth that the Republicans carried every legislative district. Mr. Landis's brother Frederick, elected to Congress in the Eleventh district, is being given a great deal of credit for the hand of the Republican ticket was elected, a Republican candidate for clerk being successful for the first time in the history of the county. Cass has heretofore been reliably Democratic. Quincy A. Myers, a leading Republican of Logansport, who was here yesterday, declared that Mr. Landis's candidacy had much to do with the result in Cass county. Landis is very popular with the young men and many young Democrats, it is said, supported both Landis and the county ticket.

Both Chairman Goodrich and Secretary Whittaker, and, in fact, the entire state committee, are proud of the work of the press bureau, which, under the supervision of George Lockwood, was one of the prominent features of the Republican state cam-Mr. Lockwood was formerly Major Steele's private secretary and gave up this position to take charge of the press bureau. He will not return to Washington with Mr. O. M. Enyard, secretary of the Miami county Republican committee, will purpose. These transcripts are desired by act as Mr. Steele's secretary, having formerly served in that capacity.

Changes in the Statehouse.

Daniel E. Storms, the newly elected secretary of state, has appointed Frank I. Grubts, a Lafayette newspaper man, his chief deputy. A rumor is Warren Bigler as chief deputy auditor of state. It is also reported that L. D. Rothschild, land clerk; C. W. Neal, insurance clerk, and George Bingham, expert accountant, may be retained by Sher-rick. Robert A. Brown, clerk of the Sumay make some new appointments. B. F. Johnson, statistician, and Geologist Blatchley will probably retain their present assistants. Charles W. Miller is expected to appoint new deputies at the attorney gen-

FEDERAL ELECTIONS LAW.

No Violations Have Been Reported to the District Attorney.

Assistant District Attorney La Follette said yesterday that no violations of the federal elections law had been reported to the district attorney's office on account of the election on Tuesday.

"Not but what there were violations," said he, "but the federal law is inadequate to reach the cases which should be dealt with. When the Democrats came into power in 1892 they repealed the federal elections law, which they called the 'force bill,' and in so doing repealed all other election laws. There ought to be a federal election law, one which would define bribery and provide adequate punishment. One great moral effect of a federal law is the fact that there is a wholesome respect for Uncle Sam's laws when state laws are not respected by localities where their enforcement is lax. Both parties indulge in political dishonesty, but nothing is done about it because each knows the other has committed a wrong. They content themselves with saying, 'We know they did it, but we got a shade the best of it.' I think there is need of a definite federal statute."

FIREMAN FELL FROM CAB

E. PFLOGGER, INDIANAPOLIS, MEETS PECULIAR DEATH.

His Head Struck a Bridge Bolt and His Body Was Found in the River Near Campbell's Station.

A. E. Pflogger, fireman on the local I. & V. freight which left Indianapolis at 2:45 yesterday morning, was killed in a peculiar manner near Campbell's Station. Engineer Ike Laporte says the fireman was all right at Campbell's Station, for he heard the fireman saluting trainmen on the north-bound freight at that point. The engine used by Laporte and Pflogger is of the "mogul" type in the arrangement of the cab, and they could not see each other at their respective posts. A few miles west of Campbell's Station the engineer noticed that the steam was running low and stepped around to the fireman to speak to him when he found the fire box door open and the firethe trainmen to his assistance. They thought Pflogger had fallen from the train and ran back, expecting to find him lying injured beside the track, but no trace of him was found. When the train reached Martinsville at 5 o'clock section men were sent in search of him. Diligent search was made from that time until about 3 o'clock yesterday afternoon, when a small blood spot was noticed on a polt on White river bridge. The river was dragged and the body was soon found in eight feet of water. Pflogger's watch stopped at 3:15 o'clock. He evidently fell from the cab and his head struck the bridge bolt, for there was a severe concussion on his forehead as if made by the bolt. The dead fireman was about twenty-five years old, unmarried and lived in Indianapolis. The body was taken to Martinsville, and the coroner's investigation is not completed.

THE LEGISLATIVE RESULT

LATE RETURNS INDICATE FIFTY-SIX ON JOINT BALLOT.

The Republicans Will Have One the Largest Majorties in the State's History.

Returns from different counties and legislative districts yesterday somewhat reduced the first estimate of the Republican majority in the State Legislature. Last night local Republicans were of opinion that the Republican majority on joint ballot will not against a set of men who had given them; be less than fifty-six. The fact developed yesterday that W. A. Guthrie, candidate for re-election as joint senator from Jeffer-Republicans, was the result in the First | son, Switzerland and Ripley counties, is defeated. In the list printed yesterday morning Mr. Guthrie's name appeared among

Among the representatives S. K. Dell, of Jay county, was named as a successful Republican candidate. Mr. Dell was defeated by Adair, of Jay county, Democratic candidate for representative. C. J. Danielson, Republican candidate for representative for Starke and Laporte counties, was also defeated. Noah Garmen, Democratic candidate, was elected. Danielson's name appeared in the Republican list yesterday

The friends of Senator Guthrie are surprised at his defeat, and they are much dis-Marcus R. Sulzer, Republican candidate defeat of C. B. Rogers may be attributed to the same cause.

There were rumors yesterday of the defeat of Cyrus E. Davis, Democratic candipublicans who are familiar with the district other soldiers where he became intoxicated. think that Davis will probably pull through. There is already a good deal of gossip regarding the House speakership, and it is probable that there will be a warm and interesting fight for this place. The three candidates who have already announced themselves on the Republican side are Henry W. Marshall, of Lafayette; Roscoe in deserting. E. Kirkman, of Richmond, and Joseph Morgan, of Indianapolis. Mr. Marshall was in town yesterday. There has been some talk of Warren G. Sayre, of Wabash, who formerly served as speaker of the House. Some time ago Mr. Sayre said that as soon as the election was over he would make some definite announcement in regard to the mat-

CONTRACT FOR COAL.

John E. Cleland Explains Why It Wa Given to A. B. Meyer & Co.

Business Director John E. Cleland, of the Board of School Commissioners, last night said that one of the reasons why he awarded the coal contract to A. B. Meyer & Co. this year was that that company had submitted its bid according to the specifications. The Morgan & Jackson Company, he said, submitted a bid, but it was not according to the specifications. The bid was lower than that submitted by A. B. Meyer & Co. The Morgan & Jackson Company, he said, had the contract last year, and their contract was not carried out prop-

'We were not at all pleased with the coal used by Morgan & Jackson and delivered to the schools," Mr. Cleland said, "for both in weight and quality the coal was not satisfactory." Mr. Cleland said that after the bids were opened and but one was according to the specifications, he consulted Albert Baker, attorney for the board, and the latter advised him to readvertise for bids. Mr. Cleland said he thought this would be the proper course until he considered the state of affairs in the coal market. He then concluded to award the contract to A. B. Meyers & Co., thinking that if the matter were deferred by readver-tising the price of coal might be advanced and the board be required to pay more for the coal.

The specifications called for Brazil block and Linton screen semi-block from No. 4 vein. Meyer bid $2.85 for Brazil block and $2.45 for Linton No. 4. Morgan & Jackson bid $2.57 for Brazil block and $1.93 on coal from Midland mine, seven miles from the Linton No. 4 vein. They did not bid on preme Court, will probably retain his present office force. Fasset A. Cotton, the new superintendent of public instruction.

CANVASSING BOARD CONSIDERABLY DELAYED IN ITS WORK.

A Table on the Vote for Justices o the Peace-Total Vote for Others on the Ticket.

The township canvassing board has received all its precinct returns, and the footings of the sheets will be made this morning. Unusual difficulty was experienced in getting the returns in, as many inspectors really thought the township vote would be canvassed with the county vote yesterday. It was late yesterday afternoon before the last precinct was recorded.

The unofficial footings show that the head of the township ticket, Louis J. Blaker, Republican candidate for the township advisory board, received a plurality of 3,759 over Theodore F. Harrison, Democratic nominee and head of the Democratic ticket. The vote of all the other candidates on both tickets ranged less than these two, and pluralities were proportionately smaller. There was little variation in the vote. That on road supervisors was less than any other, showing that many voters marked the other candidates, but did not complete marking their tickets.

The vote by wards for justices of the peace as officially footed for the canvassing board was as follows:

PREPARATION FOR MITCHELL.

Central Labor Committee Will Meet Again on Sunday.

The Central Labor Union committee on the reception of John Mitchell, president of the United Mine Workers of North America, will meet again Sunday morning in the Union block. The plans for the reception will be formulated at the Sunday meetings and the details not agreed upon until a few days before Mr. Mitchell's return. The collection of funds for the expense of the reception is progressing and no trouble is being found in securing them.

Application from outside of Indianapolis of labor organizations wishing to participate in the welcome to Mitchell are being received. Some of the members of the Central Labor Union committee disfavor the making of the reception into a State affair, fearing that to do so would necessitate the elaboration of the original idea. These memhers will try to discourage the suggestion and will reply to the letters by saying that the reception is intended as a testimonial affection from the Indianapolis associates of Mr. Mitchell.

Attorney Jerry A. Mathews.

Jerry A. Mathews, secretary to Senator Fairbanks, was admitted to practice before Judge Baker in the United States District

Albert W. Wishard. Earlier in the day he had been admitted before the Supreme Court of Indiana and the Marion county courts. While acting as a newspaper correspondent at Washington, Mr. Mathews took a course of law lectures at the Colum-bian University and Georgetown Univer-sity law schools. Later he studied a year in Boston and passed the Massachusetts State bar examination in January, 1901. In February of that year he was admitted to practice before the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts. He will return to Washington next week for the meeting of Congress to resume his duties as clerk of the senate committee on public buildings and grounds, of which Senator Fairbanks is

OHIO TEACHERS IN CITY

PROBABLY ONE THOUSAND WILL AT-TEND THE CONVENTION.

Both High Schools Visited and Given High Praise by the Buckeyes-To-Night's Session.

The hotel lobbies were crowded last evening with the Ohio teachers who came here to inspect the Indianapolis schools and also attend the Central Teachers' Association annual meeting, which begins to-night in Tomlinson Hall. It is estimated that nearly one thousand teachers are in attendance. Many arrived Wednesday night and yesterday morning. Special trains arrived yesterday at noon from Springfield, Urbana, Sidney and Delaware. Last night at 7 o'clock a special arrived from Columbus carrying four hundred delegates.

Superintendent C. N. Kendall, of the Indianapolis schools, assisted by a number of teachers and students from the two high schools received the Ohio teachers. Beginning with yesterday morning many of the visitors made the rounds of the city schools. The two high schools were first visited. Superintendent Kendall took them to the Shortridge school, where the Ohio teachers were given ample opportunity for inspection. From the Shortridge school the party journeyed to the Manual Training School on South Meridian street. The teachers arrived in time to witness the work of all departments. They were taken through the wood-working and machinery department, and watched with interest the work of the boys. The culinary, housework and other departments in charge of the girls were also visited. From expressions made by the visitors all seemed well pleased with the two high schools. They said the South Side High School was a revelation to them. They thought it looked like advanced college work in many departments. During the afternoon the district schools were visited. School No. 45 was visited by a large delegation in charge of Superintendent Kendall. They were met by the principal, Miss Clara Washburn. This school, owing to its great progress during the five years of its existence, was a surprise to many in the delegation. The new arrivals will visit many of the schools

The first session of the meeting will begin to-night in Tomlinson Hall, and will be opened by an address by William Werth-ner, on "School Spirit." Mr. Werthner is "School Spirit." president of the Central Ohio Teachers' Association. William H. Maxwell, superintendent of the New York city schools, will also deliver an address on "Ethics of the Teaching Profession."
